John Coverdale
to me, Isabel

Dear Alki,

I am writing regarding our professional relationship with you, both personally (in relation to your personal tax compliance) and in respect of our professional services. Following an internal review and in light of your public profile, we have decided that we should step back from acting for you. This is a

Personal tax compliance

Accordingly, please treat this email as notice that we intend to cease acting for you in relation to your personal tax compliance. We will be transitioning to new management, subject to our professional and regulatory obligations and settlement of any outstanding fees and disbursements. We have completed our 2027

FilmOn.TV UK Limited and FilmOn TV Limited

In respect of these companies, we have completed preparation of both companies' tax returns for the year ended 31 December 2024

Registered office

We can no longer allow our offices to be used as the companies registered office address. Please confirm the alternative address you would like to use.

All companies need a registered office address but there are many agents that provide their own office address as a registered office

Company formation agents and secretarial agents - GOV.UK

Please confirm receipt of this email and let me know who we should liaise with regarding transition arrangements.

Best regards

John
