On April 17, 2025, at 13:21 AST, with $52 ECD in registry fees paid,

the original Statement of Claim in Case ANUHCV2025/0149 was accepted and stamped "FILED" by the Registry of the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court (High Court of Justice, Antigua & Barbuda). That filing identified a core syndicate — David Boies, Gloria Allred, Michael Avenatti, Tom Girardi, Black Cube, LimeWire, John Branca, and senior UPP executives — asserting Caribbean asset jurisdiction and $10 billion in damages for alleged abuse of process, conspiracy, and economic interference affecting Antigua & Barbuda.

On September 24, 2025, at 11:49 AST, with $42 ECD paid, an Amended Statement of Claim was accepted and stamped "FILED" under CPR Rule 20. That amendment transformed the case in scope and gravity. It pleads $80 billion+ in asserted sovereign damages, models long-arc carbon sovereignty losses extending toward $400 billion, sets out a fossil-fuel-aligned motive theory, and expands the defendant schedule through Annex A to include global banks and CEOs (including Jamie Dimon, Jane Fraser, and Brian Moynihan), major media conglomerates, judicial and quasi-judicial actors, and the full UPP commiRecord Notice (January 16, 2026): Proceedings before the Supreme Court were formally recorded on January 16, 2026. ## Related Procedural Reporting ShockYA has published a related report examining how a January 7, 2026 letter from Howard Kennedy LLP became a significant procedural issue before the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court. Filed directly with the Court while expressly disclaiming submission to jurisdiction, the correspondence was scrutinized on the record for accuracy and characterized in open proceedings as constituting contempt.

Record-Accurate Status

As of January 17, 2026, the defendant universe is fixed on the record; the sovereign framing is formally pleaded; loss models are quantified and sworn; and parallel jurisdictions are procedurally aware. No findings of liability have been made. No damages have been awarded. No conclusions are drawn by the Court.

This report documents status only. The record exists. The scope is defined. The actors are named. The matter is now institutionally visible.

Record Notice: Additional court records will be published when available. A written ruling is expected in early February 2026. All jurisdictional and procedural issues remain live.
